

A FRIEND AND NEIGHBOR, The profound confidence which the nation feels in its present executive is forcibly demonstrated by the action of the Democratic state convention in Texas. Young Mr. Balley, a man of whom the nation has expected a great deal, and in whom the nation has been disappointed, attempted to force through the convention a general disagreement with McKinley's plans so far as the war is concerned. The majority of the Democrats led by Governor Culberson and ex-Governor Hogs, passed resolutions upholding McKinley's conduct of the war and furtherthe part of this government in the Philippines, this being exactly McKinley's | den peoples of continental Europe. position as foreshadowed by the peace
